TWO TO ONE.

Beck Whipped Two Indians, and Claims Self-Defense.

Chris Beck was playing a lone hand last night when he mixed with two Umatilla braves in a Pendleton noodle joint last night, but in spite of the odds against him and the fact that one of the reds wielded a beer bottle with effect, he won out. But the white man's victory was short lived. Hardly had he laid the second Swash low with a cork-screw jab, before Marshal Carney's men were upon him and now victor and vanquished are facing the common peril—the law.

Beck was arraigned in the recorder's court this morning, but pleaded self-defense, and the case was continued to allow him to secure witnesses. The white declares the Indians attacked him, and he shows a cut on his forehead where the beer bottle got in its work.

Beck is an old offender. Indians have ever been his downfall. Twice he has served terms in the Multnomah county jail for selling whisky to allottees.

They are situated in the western and southwestern part of Josephine county and in Curry county.—Jacksonville Times.

FEED 4000 SHEEP.

Bartholomew & Mathews Wanted to Feed 4000.

Harry Bartholomew, who was in town from Butter Creek, says he and T. D. Mathews will fatten about 4000 head of 2 and 3-year-old wethers for the spring market. They had intended to feed 8000, but the demand for sheep has been so great that they let go of half their original number. They have already been offered 4 1/2 cents a pound for their mutton, for delivery the first of January. Harry also informs the Heppner Times that he has contracted with W. W. Gellert to plow 1000 acres of new land on his lower Butter creek ranch, the work to be done with a steam plow. Beside this contract Mr. Bartholomew will have plowed 200 acres more land and will seed the entire 1200 acres to grain for next season's crop. He believes he can now more profitably farm his land than raising stock.

Hoodoo Story.

Here's a hoodoo story of what happened to the hoodoo elevator in the city hall, Philadelphia, the other day. The hoodoo elevator is No. 13 and it is in the southwestern corner of the building.

Now. The elevator was coming down when it stuck between the first and third floors (1 and 3 make 13) at exactly 13 minutes of 11.

There were 13 persons in the car. One of them was cross-eyed and one was hump-backed.

After working for 31 minutes (3 and 1 reversed make 13) the car was released and the imprisoned passengers liberated.

One of the passengers was a woman. She wore a hat trimmed with peacock feathers. Peacock feathers, it is notorious, fairly reek with ill-luck.

That's all.
